

Dermatreat Application Directions

Introductory Remarks:

Dermatreat has received 100% positive feedback from our customers concerning their experience using Dermatreat for the following conditions: non melanoma skin cancer, eczema, acne, ground itch (a condition contracted from walking in cow or pig pens with manure), and even the sting of a brown recluse spider.

The FDA does not allow us to call these results a cure, so we will not attempt to do this. Instead, we will define it as a positive improvement in the appearance of these skin conditions. Our website contains a few of the testimonials relative to Dermatreat. 100% of these people state that they believe their skin problems to be cured or at least to be significantly improved by Dermatreat. While we have not had any feedback yet, we believe Dermatreat may be very effective with other conditions as well, such as Dandruff, Rosacea and Candidas. As of the writing of this document, we anxiously await feedback in those areas.

So many positive improvements have been witnessed by users of Dermatreat on their skin cancers that we offer a 100% money back guarantee of satisfaction as described below.

Application Directions

Skin Cancer-

Apply Dermatreat topically to non-melanoma skin cancer, cover with a bandage. Change every 12 hours, cutting hair as needed on areas where the hair may interfere. If it is a skin cancer, you should begin to see a discharge of pus in 1 to 3 days. The pus should continue to be drawn from the affected area for 7 to 9 days with a basal cell cancer, and two weeks with a squamous cell cancer. To be thorough, continue to apply Dermatreat two days after discharge ceases. When pus stops, a positive improvement is believed to have occurred. Oftentimes, Dermatreat customers have reported they were unable to tell where their cancers had been.

* Dermatreat recommends that you stay under a doctors care at all times while you have or suspect that you may have a cancer. Dermatreat has not been evaluated by the FDA and is not intended to diagnose, treat, cure or prevent disease.
